

I think the beginning tone is negative because it shows police activity.

I think the middle tone is negative because vehicles are being destroyed.

I think the ending tone is positive because two kids are playing with toys and the music is happy.